SHERIDAN'S RIDE

To the West Has a Pacifying Effect on the Indians--He Will Return to Washington and Report-Probable Recommendations -The Indians Watch a Review of the Troops-The Tongue River Indians In ?

Menacing Attitude Fr. Reno, I. T., July 21 .- Generals Sheridan and Miles and Inspector Armstrong will probably conclude their investigations into the trouble among the Indians here with the enumeration today, and the former will leave for Washington on Wednesday to make his report to the President. It is stated positively that General Sheridan will recommend that one hundred of the Indians, including some of those who were most turbulent, be enlisted into the military under the command of some experienced officer. The Indians will receive the same pay as soldiers of the regular army, and it is believed that employment of this nature will divert their minds from mischief.

It is understood that 'the removal on Agent Dyer will also be recommended. No reflection on the personal integrity of the agent is intended in this suggestion, but it is perfectly clear that the agent has lost his influence over the Indians, and equally clear that he can never regain it. It is reasonably sure that General Sheridan, General Miles and Inspector Armstrong will concur in the opinion already expressed in these dispatches, that the illegal cattle land leases are the chief cause of all the trouble here, and will report that they should be abrogated.

The enumeration of the Indians to-day is looked forward to with a good deal of interest as it will indicate the control which the Government, speaking through the General of the army, has over the redskins here. The Cheyennes are going into camp along the north bank of the Canadian River, and the Arapahoes along the south bank. The Indians will be required to come out of their teepees by bands. The name of the leader of each band will be taken and the remainder of the band counted. General Sheridan reviewed all the troops here yesterday morning. The ceremony was carefully watched by some of the Indians. Inspector Armstrong received a dispatch from Camp Supply late last night saving that 60,000 head of cattle, which have been forcibly detained. are now moving north and that the trails are open.

The Tongue River Cheyennes. MILES CITY, MONT., July 21 .- White Bull leads the Tongue River Chevennes, and has coerced Black Wolfe into line. Two Moons and Brave Wolf are leading chiefs on the Rosebud River. The Tongue River Indians have had a small engagement, but will not state the result. Major Logan, of the Fifth Infantry, from Ft. Keogh, reached the agency Sunday, and will be joined by two companies of cavalry from Ft. Custer to-day. Crow Indian Agent Armstrong left there yesterday on the way to his agency. The Tongue River Cheyennes will reach Rosebud about Wednesday. D. H. McFall, who lives on the Custer battle ground, to-day relates that he met the cavalry moving toward Rosebud as he came up. The Stock Growers' Journal says: "K A. Cook, who has charge of Me. Wallop's horses at Clark's ranch, on the Tongue River, near Otto Creek, says there are about 600 well-armed Chevennes. near the ranch, and that all are well supplied with ammunition, and never leave their tents without a gun. Their horses are under close herd and may be reached by the warriors without a moment's notice. They are trying to sell the mares and colts for almost any price, which some interpret to mean they expect to have hard riding, while others think it is because they are hard up and want money. Arranging to Reinvest General Grant's

$250,000. NEW YORK, July 22 .- It was learned gesterday morning on good authority that arrangements were making to reinvest the $250,000 trust fund raised for General Grant in the first mortgage bonds of the Wabash Railroad. It was said that this reinvestment of the fund would be made on the 1st of August, because the trustees of the Morgan estate desired to be free from the responsibilty attached to them. When the funds were invested in the Wabash bonds Governor Morgan gave a personal guarantee for the payment of the principal and interest. A reporter yesterday talked with gentleman who has been fully acquainted with all the transaction ever since the fund was invested in these bonds under Governor Morgan's personal guarantee. and asked him how this money would be reinvested. He said it was not certain that the fund would be reinvested. The question is now under advisement, and vill be definitely decided some time within the next two weeks. It is not true that all the amount raised for General Grant is invested in Wabash first mortgage bonds. If the trustees of the Morgan estate desire to turn over the amount of money for which Governor accept these bonds, that fact will be made known in a short time. A Treasury Scare. WASHINGTON, D. C., July 22 .- There was quite a scare in the Treasury Department Monday evening over a supposed bond robbery. After the clerks were all gone, and while the charwomen were cleaning up the offices, one of them found in the office of the Deputy Comptroller of the Currency a package of registered United States bonds. The label on the package called for five $1,000 bonds, but only four were in the package. After a long and careful search the missing $1,000 bond was found in the waste-paper room all crumpled up. It seems there were some packages of $1,000 bonds sent to the Deputy Comptroller's office during the day, and by some inadvertence one package was put on top of the safe instead of inside. It is supposed that some one seeing them there, extracted one of the $1,000 bonds, but on finding that they could not get out of the building

Morgan made himself responsible, and with it, threw it in with the waste paper. Murdered by Mulattoes, STEWART, STAFFORD COUNTY, VA., July 22.—Great excitement has been caused here by the murder on Sunday of two white boys named Doddard, aged respectively fourteen and ten years. It appears that the white boys in company with a number of mulatto boys went crabbing; that a quarrel occurred and resulted in the throwing overboard of the Doddards. Their bodies were washed ashore Monday. Yesterday eighteen arrests were made. Lynch-

CLEVELAND, O., July 21 .- There are no strike among the rolling mill hands. The question has narrowed down to a matter of nerve. If the strikers are able to bold out longer than the company they will win; if they can not, their case is hopeless; as it has been demonstrated that rioting will avail them nothing. A meeting of the strikers will be held today or to-morrow to effect an organization of those now on a strike. The men seem determined, and say they will starve before returning to work at their former wages. Everything is quiet this morning, but few strikers being visible.

THE MILK IN THE NUT.

Pertinent Reason Why the Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indians Did Not Want to be Counted.

Fr. Reno, I. T., July 23 .- The enrollment of the Cheyennes and Arapahoe Indians was concluded yesterday morning. There are 2,169 Cheyennes and 1,300 Arapahoes. No census has been taken of these Indians since 1875, when the Cheyennes numbered 3,905 and the Arapahoes 2,366. Upon this basis rations have been issued every since. The present count shows that for several years the Government has been defrauded out of the difference. The amount saved by the new census will be 52,000 pounds of beef weekly, the value of $1,692. The amount to be saved yearly is $92,000. The result shows how strong the influences are likely to have been to prevent a count not only from the Indians themselves, but the contractors as well. The Indians are now perfectly satisfied, and the trouble is all over. Colonel Dyer, the agent, resigned his position Tuesday, and the change will doubtless result in a clean sweep at the agency. The troops are thinning out. Two companies leave for Camp Supply and two for Fort Sill. The force to be held is not known. General Sheridan will remain here a day or two longer, and will then leave for Washington via Caldwell. General Miles will return via Camp Supply, and Flattering Reports of the Condition and Yield of Texas Wheat-Not Enough of No. 3 Wheat to Make a Decent Sample—Other Grains Show Almost as Good. Dallas, Tex., July 22.-There was a committee meeting of the Texas Grain Association held here yesterday for the purpose of establishing grades of grain for the present season. Samples were in from all points in North Texas and the committee was surprised to find that there was not enough inferior wheat to make a decent sample of grade No. 3. Heretofore the grades of North Texas wheat have run from No. 8 to No. 4, but this year the grain is so fine that No. 2 is about the only grade there will be much

There were but few samples of injurea wheat in the whole lot examined by the committee, notwithstanding the cry that | National Government as a memento, toit was all ruined. Wheat is coming in lively from all points in North Texas, and the yield per acre is greater than ever known before in the history of the country.

There were several samples of nice barley before the committee. The grains were plump and only slightly stained. The oats suffered more from the rains than any other grain, and the committee say fully two-thirds of that raised in North Texas is stained and will run from No. 2 to No. 3. All below that will go rejected on account of stain. Grain men say that oats will improve by a sweat. The stain, however, only affects the chaff n every sami examined by the committee were found to be all right, and most of the stained samples would make just as good seed oats as the brightest samples. The committee were in possession of information concerning the crops all over North Texas. The finest corn crop ever raised in the State is virtually made, and the prospects are good for an immense cotton crop.

EX-UNION SOLDIERS.

The Matter of Their Appointment and Retention in Office Being Pressed Upon the Administration by the G. A. R. WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23 .- A committee from the Grand Army of the Republic called on the President yesterday and submitted to him the resolution passed at the recent National encampment at Portland, Me., in relation to the rights of veterans to be retained and appointed to positions, in the Government service. General Burdette presented the resolutions, and stated that the veterans had implicit confidence in the President's feelings toward them, his disposition to carry out the laws, but were desirous of securing an expression of him governing his subordinates in the matter. The President replied that he had felt at all times well disposed toward the soldiers, and felt that their claims for positions should be recognized. The law and the spirit of the law should be obeyed, and in all cases where applications are considered, military record enters into the matter, but the competency of the applicant must be beyond question. The President did not indicate that he would issue any instructions in the matter. Afterward the delegation called on

General Rosecrans, Register of the Treasury, to consult with him in regard to the retention in office of soldiers already employed, and the appointment of others to places whenever vacancies occur. The General informed the delegation that there were so many Democratic Union soldiers out of employment that, other things being equal, he hoped the Administration would give them the prefer-John Roach's Indebtedness. PHILADELPAIA, PA., July 23.-Jas. Swank, the secretary of the American Steel Association, says that he had taken the trouble to make inquiry of all the iron and steel firms with which John Roach had any dealings, and had elicited the information that his indebtedness to them is not worthy of mention, as he owed them practically nothing. The three largest firms assured him that Mr. Roach was not in their debt a single dollar, having paid them every claim some time ago. It is generally believed that his chief indebtedness is to New York city banks for accommodation in the way of loans, and that he has paid for nearly if not quite all the material purchased with the advances that he received on his Government contracts.

Mexican Territory Not In the Market. WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23 .- Senor Romero, the Mexican Minister, characterizes as preposterous the recently published story that the Mexican Government proposed selling part of its territory to the United States. "I was satisfied when I read the statement that it was untrue," he said; "and I have since seen in the official papers of the Mexican Government that it is a fabrication." Senor Romero thinks the story originated with some parties who own lands in the Northern States of Mexico, who would like to sell those lands.

Trouble Ahead for the Cattle Drovers. WASHINGTON, D. C., July 28 .- The Kansas and Colorado cattle trouble is not regarded as settled, notwithstanding the orders from the Interior and War Departments. The Secretary of the Interior can grant a passage for cat-tie through the public lands, but beyond that he has no authority. When the Texas herds reach the borders of Kansas and Colorado, there is apt to be trouble. The land there is private property, and, the owners fearing that some of the cattle are diseased, will likely refuse their entrance. It is asserted that Secretary Lamar can not compell them to do otherwise.

HIS RESTING PLACE

Central Park, New York, Decided Upon as the Resting Place For the Remi General Grant-August 8th the Day Set For the Public Funeral-Private service at the Cottage August 4th. Mr. McGregor, N. Y., July 25 .- The following message, received by Mr. Furner, Mayor Grace's chief clerk, late yesterday aftrenoon settled that the place of burial shall be Central Park: Your telegram at hand, and I understand the matter to be now definitely settled that General Grant's body is to be interred here. We can not take any more definite action in regard to the matter of Mrs. Grant until a later date. The faith of the President of the Board of Aldermen and my own is pledged that we will see that the wishes of the family are gratified by formal resolution of the Board.

[Stepedia W. R. GRACE.

[Signed] Upon the receipt of Mayor Grace's assurance that Mrs. Grant would be laid by the General, the family authorized Mr. Turner to telegraph the Mayor accepting the city's request that General Grant should be interred in Central Park.

The following schedule of arrangements was then agreed upon: The body will be taken from Mt. Mcpregor at 1 p. m. on Tuesday, August 4th, arriving at Albany at 4:30 p. m. It will lie in state in the Capitol until the next day at one o'clock, when it will be taken to New York, arriving there at 4:30 p. m. August 5th. It will lie in state in the City Hall from that time until Saturday, August 8th, when the public funeral will take place with such obsequies as may be arranged by the authorities. The interment in Central Park will then occur. More than 200 Grand Army Post representatives are expected here to-day from all parts of the country. Tents are in readiness upon the mountain for their accommodation. The General's face, under the influence of the embalming fluid, has lost the deep furrows and wrinkles caused by disease and suffering. The expression is calm and peaceful. The case containing the body was surmounted yesterday by a beautiful wreath of oak leaves, which little Julia Grant, the Colonel's daughter, and Dr. Douglas' little daughter brought in from the woods and begged that it might be so placed. The body will not be placed in a casket until Monday, when near friends of the family will be permitted to view the face. Mr. Drexel has decided that the cottage in which General Grant died shall never be occupied as a dwelling again. He intends to present it to the State or gether with the furniture as it stands

Mrs. Grant has received the following from the British Minister at Washington: "Her Majesty, the Queen, requests me 'to convey to yourself and family her sincere condolence on the death of General Grant." Dr. Douglas gave to a reporter yesterday some interesting reminiscences of General Grant's illness. Among other things he said that about a week ago, when he noted a somewhat less obstinate condition of the throat, perhaps due to the increased inroads of the disease, the General wrote upon a piece of paper

"I feel sorry at the prospect of living through the summer and fall in the condition that I am in. I do not think I can, but I may. Except that I do not gather strength, I feel quite as well from day to day as I have heretofore. But I am losing strength; I feel it more in the inability to move around than in any other way, or rather, in the lack of desire to try to move. The disease must be fatal in the end. My life is precious, of course, to my family, and would be to me if I could recover entirely. There never was one more willing to go than I. I first wanted so many days to work on my book so the authorship would be clearly mine. It was graciously granted me, after being apparently much lower than now, and with it a capacity to do more work than I ever did in the same time. My work had been done so hastily that much had been left out, and I did it all over from the crossing of the James River in 1864 to Appomatox in 1865. Since then I have added as much as fifty pages to the book. There is nothing more to do, and herefore I am not likely to be more ready to go than at this moment." Mt. McGregor, N. Y., July 25 .- The funeral services will be held on the porch of the cottage at eleven a. m. on August 4th, Rev. Dr. Newman officiating. The body will then be taken by train to Saratoga. The train stops at Saratoga only half an hour, reaching Albany at 4:30 p. m. General Carr, as commander of the Third Division of the G. A. R., and Governor Hill and the State officials will escort the body to the Capitol. The Loyal Legion accompanies the body from Saratoga in addition to the official escort furnished by General Hancock. The General's face looks as if he had just fallen asleep. A United States flag is thrown ## over the coffin.

PIONEER DAY. The Mormon Anniversary of Their Entrance Into Salt Lake Valley the Quietest One in Their History. SALT LAKE, UTAH, July 24 .- This is the thirty-eighth anniversary of the entrance into the Salt Lake Valley by Brigham Young and the 142 Mormons who made the journey from the Missouri River by ox teams. Usually the anniversary is observed with much display, but the half-masting of the flag on the 4th of July, and a threatened collision between the Mormons and Gentiles should there be an further interference with flag, well as the death of General Grant, put a stop to all organized celebration. The day passed quietly. Business was entirely suspended and saloons were closed by the Mayor's proclamation. Instead of the usual rush of visitors to the city, hundreds left town, going to various neighboring resorts to escape the heat. Telegraphic reports from all parts of the Territory state that Pioneer

Day is the quietest one in history.

A Moonshiner Shot Dead. NASHVILLE, TENN., July 24 .- John R. Matty, a moonshiner, was recently killed in Cannon County, by J. H. Johnson. Matty had been arrested for illicit distilling. Johnson and his father-in-law, named Hunt, are witnesses for the Government. Matty threatened to kill them, and meeting Johnson, made an attempt to shoot him, but his weapon was taken away. Matty then endeavored to thrash Johnson, who drew a pistol and fired through a crack in the fence over which he had jumped. The budet lodged in Matty's brain.

Suspended for Cause. WASHINGTON, D. C., July 25 .- Prof. Hilgard, Superintendent, and the Assistant Superintendent of the Coast Survey. together with several employes of that office, were yesterday, by order of Secre-tary Mauning, suspended. An investi-gation of the accounts of the office, which has been conducted for some time past by First Auditor Chenowith, has, it is stated, led that official to the conclusion that the funds of the Bureau have not been honestly disbursed, and that men have been carried on the rolls and salaries paid them who performed no service whatever. Other removals from the same bureau are expected.
